

Dear participants,

Over these past few days, many of you have contacted Diane and me in order to obtain more information regarding the organization of our VESUVIO Classic 2020 rally. Keeping in mind the current situation with regard to Covid, we are seeing 3 types of reactions:

- Those who would prefer not to take part in the trip and who will not be participating in the rally
- Those who are a bit hesitant about participating
- Those who are looking forward to exploring the great outdoors and to participating in the rally

... which does not make it easy for us, as the organizers, to take the most adequate decision possible.

If we cancel or postpone the rally, many participants will be disappointed. If we decide to keep everything as it is, some of you won't feel very comfortable. The fact that many flights to Italy have been cancelled is not exactly making this an easy decision, either. On the other hand, from a European government point of view, so far travelling to the south of Italy still has not been prohibited.

In order for everyone to be able to get organized, we have to know now how many of you would still like to participate. Before asking each of you which side you are on, the organization would like to point out the following arguments:

- 1/ The South of Italy has been very little affected and is currently considered a 'green' region.
- 2/ The air-conditioning on a plane is about just as efficient as the one used in operating rooms in hospitals.
- 3/ Everything will be put into place to guarantee the sanitary safety of every participant and to respect the rules as stipulated by the official instances with regard to outside events attended by a maximum of 200 people and inside events attended by a maximum of 100 people.

4/ All of the dinners and lunches will be served outside on the terrace with a comfortable distance between the tables as well as between the guests.

5/ The results of every RT as well as the general ranking will be available online on a website that will be communicated to you by the organization.

In order to be able to take a decision in the 5 next coming days, we therefore kindly ask you to reply to this important question:

If the current conditions remain in place, can you please confirm to us whether you will be participating or not?

Unfortunately saying 'maybe' is not an option. Please make your choice.

Depending on the number of positive and negative replies, we will ultimately take the decision on whether to organize the VESUVIO CLASSIC 2020 or not.

If the number of positive replies is not sufficiently high, the event will be postponed to September 2021.

Depending on how the situation will continue to evolve, we will also inform you as soon as possible about the possibility of being reimbursed or of using this year's enrolment as a down-payment for next year's edition.

To those who would still like to join us: don't hesitate! Here is a short video of just over a minute that will show you everything you will be discovering:
